VOLUME VI

- WALPOLE IN THE LIBRARY AT STRAWBERRY HILL,
BY MÜNTZ 257
From the water-colour drawing, 1756, in the possession of Com.
Colin Campbell-Johnston.
- MANN'S LETTER OF 5 JANUARY 1765 272
From the original, now wsl.
- PENCIL DRAWING OF A GOTHIC ARCH 338
With notes in ink in an unknown hand, from the original found with Mann's letter of 20 Sept. 1765, now wsl. It may be a sketch by Thomas Pitt for the chimney-piece in the Gallery at Strawberry Hill.
- 'THE REPEAL' BY BENJAMIN WILSON 400
HW's copy with his annotations, now in the possession of the New York Public Library. The print was repeated several times with changes of detail (see the British Museum's Catalogue of . . . Political and Personal Satires, No. 4140, iv. 368-73, and M.
Dorothy George, English Political Caricature to 1792, Oxford, 1959, pp. 134-6 and Plate 39). A later copy at Farmington has identifications of the figures in a contemporary hand; on it, Mansfield is identified as 'Wedderburne.'
- BUST OF CALIGULA 522
From a drawing by John Carter in Richard Bull's extra-illustrated copy of the Description of Strawberry Hill, 1784, now wsl.
- FRANCAVILLA'S STATUE OF VENUS 583
From the original, now at the Wadsworth Athenæum, Hartford, Connecticut.

Grateful acknowledgment is made to Com. Campbell-Johnston, the New York Public Library, and the Wadsworth Athenæum for permission to reproduce illustrations listed here.
